First Friday Canton

St. Peter's School sponsored an ice sculpture for Canton's January 5, 2018 First Friday! The artist, Tom Blike, braved the cold to sculpt a hornet for St. Peter's School! The School also hosted a warming station selling hot cocoa and glazed donuts. A small crowd took advantage of our warming station as they watched Downtown Canton transform into a frozen winter wonderland with all the artistic ice carvings!

Preschool JFS Provider

St. Peter Preschool is now a Provider for CDJFS. Parents who are employed, in school or participating to meet the requirements of the OWF cash assistance or SNAP can apply for help to pay for their childcare in the county where they live by contacting the county department of Job and Family Services (CDJFS). You can get more information about the childcare program from your County Department of Job and Family Services.

Freezing Blast Makes for Indoor Recess Activities

The beginning of the year saw record low temperatures and wind chill factors causing the school to close 2 days in the first week of January. The remaining days were also very cold but school was in session. Indoor recess is the game plan for days like this. Many activities are used to entertain and enrich students during their recess time. The fun includes indoor bowling, tic-tac-toe with beanbags, corn hole, board games, and of course reading with friends.

Featured Teacher

I am an alumna of St. Peter School. I also graduated from St. Thomas Aquinas High School, and Walsh University. I have been teaching at St. Peter for 17 years. I am currently teaching fourth and fifth grade Math, Science, and Religion. In 2016, I was awarded the Golden Apple Award. In 2017, I was nominated as a member of the East Stark County Teaching Team. I am nearly finished with my Masters Degree in Education at Walsh University. I am seeking a professional license in Principalship. I have been married to my wonderful husband, David, for 17 years. We have 3 beautiful children. They have all attended St. Peter School as well.

Marketing Director Needed
